

Real-time analytics: The system can be enhanced with real-time analytics capabilities, such as anomaly detection or predictive analytics, to enable proactive security measures and improve overall situational awareness.