Summary

My name is Aahna Singh and currently, I'm pursuing BJMC and I'm in the second year of my degree. I've always had a natural curiosity for techs and teaching. As a child, I loved taking things apart and putting them back together.

Growing up, this passion grew stronger and I kind of realized that this domain is sort of the best fit for me. Maybe I don't have much experience and knowledge like you but what can I tell about me is that I'm an enthusiastic person who loves to learn new things continuously.

- Have worked as chef in KFC
- Now I have been running a small bakery business .
- Have been providing communication classes to some people.
- Have been providing providing tuitions and keyboard classes.

Aside from all that, I love sketching , playing chess & soccer , music, and learning different cultures , cooking and a lots of other things !
